Overview

- Nintendo operates in home entertainment, specializing in the development, manufacture, and sale of entertainment products.
- Products range from computer-enhanced video game platforms to playing cards.
- Nintendo is one of the world's most recognizable video game companies. It differentiates itself from competitors by prioritizing family-friendly accessibility, unique gameplay, and a strong portfolio of exclusive intellectual property.

Strategic Rationale

- Strengthen Gaming Capabilities – Webflix would be able to immediately accelerate its internal video game content capabilities, allowing it to create stronger, "stickier" relationships with its existing customer base while also serving to expand the size of its total addressable market
- Deepen Penetration in APAC Region– By acquiring Nintendo, Webflix would be able to bolster its market penetration in the key Asia-Pacific region, for which it generated $3.3B, or about 11% of total revenue, in FY2021
